Taurus (April 20 - May 20) May 2010 Overview

After three weeks of working his way retrograde through your sign, Taurus, communicative Mercury will finally turn direct, bright and early on the 11th - and there will be much rejoicing in your kingdom! All those miscommunications, lost directions, broken appliances, and electronics will finally be straightened out or fixed, and since you're so fond of your possessions, this will be quite a terrific time for you! Of course, you also love to be with your dear ones - finally, there will be no more hurdles to jump over. It's time to make some plans with no worries about the outcome.

Gemini (May 21 - June 21) May 2010 Overview

Family matters may have been weighing heavily on you over the past few weeks, Gemini, but once the 11th arrives, you'll be able to straighten everything out - from petty sibling rivalries to major arguments over inheritances. Remember, you were born with the "gift of gab," which isn't to be taken lightly. You can talk to anyone about anything, and if you really need to - if it's really important - you'll manage to make peace between any warring factions. Just put that mighty talent of yours to work - that is, your way with words.
